Quotation Mark Practice

Put quotation marks in the appropriate places in the story below.

Oh! said Mom. Come look at this cute kitten!

Wow, that's so cute, said Emily.

What's her name? asked Debbie.

Her name is Peanut, said Mark.

What happened to her legs? asked Emily.

She was attacked by a dog, Mark replied.

How long will she wear those bandages? asked Debbie.

At least six weeks, said Mark. The vet said the kitten's bones are too small and soft. They can't put pins in so the kitten will just have to stay in a cast.

That's sad, said Debbie.

If you are interested, Peanut is up for adoption, Mark told them. I work at the animal shelter.

Oh, I wish we could, replied Mom, but we already have a dog and a cat.

Book Titles and Quotation Mark Practice

Have you read the book Cinder Edna? asked Jill.

No. Is it a good book? replied Rick.

Yes. I loved it. I also really liked The Teacher from the Black Lagoon, said Jill. What books have you read lately?

I've been reading Penny and Peter, Rick said. It's a book about two boys who are adopted. They go on lots of funny adventures.

I'll have to check that out, said Jill.

Let's sing Home on the Range together.

My mom had to memorize The Walrus and the Carpenter, a poem by Lewis Carroll when she was in fourth grade.

I'm reading The Lion, the Witch and the Wardrobe.

I read Highlights when I was at the doctor's office. I love doing the hidden pictures in that magazine!

Have you ever seen the U.S.S. Arizona? The battle ship was sunk in World War II. It is now a national memorial at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii.

My mom's favorite short story is An Occurrence at Owl Creek Bridge by Ambrose Bierce. She also likes Edgar Allan Poe's stories such as The Fall of the House of Usher or the Pit and the Pendulum.

Have you seen Ice Age 3?

We sang the Star Spangled Banner before the baseball game started.

My little sister loves the movie McKenna Shoots for the Stars.
